Little Hope For Better Pine Prices

A. A. Durney, Fruit Man From Coast, Holds Little Hope to Growers For Several Years at Least—Demand Can't Be Much More Increased.

"Speaking frankly, the outlook for the pineapple business from the growers' standpoint is not bright, for at least several years to come," stated A. A. Durney, a member of the big fruit packing firm of Griffith, Durney & Company, of California, who arrived from the coast this week on business of his firm. Mr. Durney has no direct interest in the production of pineapples, but his firm has contracts as agent to handle the output of the Maui Pineapple Company, of Pauwela, and of the Honouliuli Ranch. Mr. Durney declared that it had not been easy to dispose of the big pack of over two million cases, the amount of Hawaii's output of pineapple last year, and that it was only possible at all by the very low price at which it was offered. It will not be possible to materially increase these prices, he thinks, for the coming season's output.

"Yes, I sincerely believe the limit has been very nearly reached," declared Mr. Durney. "Of course consumption will continue to increase, but it will be slow. In 1908 the packers inaugurated a big advertising campaign and practically saved the day for pineapples, enormously increasing the demand. They tried the same methods last year and the results were scarcely noticeable.

"Then too, the European war has cut into the work of developing the pineapple appetite in Europe. The exports had already reached very important proportions—perhaps 500,000 cases per year. This is now practically stopped."

With little prospect of a material advance in the price of the canned goods, there can be no very great increase in the price the packers can pay the growers. Hence the conclusion that there must be a decided curtailment among the growers before adequate returns for their product can be hoped for.

Thousands of Children in Big Chorus

Unique Attraction Now Being Worked Up in Connection With Carnival—Event Will Be Staged With Folk Dances in Front of Capitol.

(Special.)
HONOLULU, Jan. 6.—Thousands of youthful voices, raised in the singing of patriotic and popular airs, will be a feature of the program of the 1915 Mid-Pacific Carnival, which without doubt is going to be one of the most appreciated and entertaining events of the celebration. Special copies of music are now being prepared at the instance of the Carnival company, especially for the occasion, and within a few days Miss Jane Winno, who successfully conducted the Christmas carol singing here a year ago, will commence rehearsing the children, the majority of whom will be public school pupils.

The singing will be done from the capitol steps to the accompaniment of the Royal Hawaiian Band. Bleacher seats will be arranged for the audience. In connection with the singing, during the intermissions the children will portray the folk dances of the various nations, each child being in appropriate costume. The folk dancing is in charge of Mrs. Mary Gunn and Miss Nina Adams, who shortly will begin rehearsals. The various local public school teachers are heartily in favor of both events, and it is expected that between 1500 and 2000 children will participate.

New Engineer Department is Created

Ordinance Passes Third Reading and Hugh Howell is Appointed—Lake Opposes—Raymond Accuses Him of Playing Politics.

Denouncing in vigorous measures what he declared to be an effort on the part of Supervisor Charles Lake to "play politics," Dr. Raymond, at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the board, insisted on action being taken on the ordinance creating the office of county engineer. Lake's effort to postpone action on the measure failed, and with two slight amendments, the ordinance passed its third reading, Kalamo, Meyer, and Raymond voting for it, Lake against it, and Drummond being absent.

In urging the adoption of the ordinance, Dr. Raymond cited figures aggregating $22,618.18, spent on road work and other projects during the past eighteen months, which he declared had been wasted, solely because the work had been done without proper engineering skill.

A petition from fifty-five voters of the county protesting against the passage of the proposed ordinance, on the ground that the county can't afford the luxury of an engineer at the present time, had been previously read. Raymond declared that the fifty-five names represented but a small fraction of the opinion of the county. Further, that the county is not hard up, and that it will have plenty of money next year to carry out all of its more important projects for road building. That this work cannot be done without a competent engineer in charge.

Supervisor Lake strenuously denied the charge that he was playing politics in connection with the matter, declaring that his opposition to the ordinance had been consistent from the start.

Following the adoption of the ordinance, creating the new department, and placing all the district overseers under the engineer, the Board formally appointed Hugh Howell as engineer, with a salary of $300 per month. The vote stood the same as before. Mr. Howell is at present filling the place of engineer, but under the new appointment his authority will be much extended.

Although Supervisor Drummond was in town at the time, he did not attend the meeting until after the engineer ordinance had been acted upon.

County at Last Pays For Auto Truck

Attorney Breckons Shows Supervisors the Desirability of Cleaning Up a Malodorous Matter—Sum of $4350 Turns Trick.

The Supervisors on Wednesday, by formal resolution, appropriated $4350 to pay for the much-discussed auto-truck, which the Board allowed to be wished onto it by the Volcano Stables Company, a year or more ago. The matter, which has been an unpleasant topic to the board for a long time, is thus finally disposed of.

Robt. W. Breckons, attorney for the Stables Company, was at the meeting of the board and asked that the matter be settled, as was finally done, after the board had waited in vain for some time for the arrival of Supervisor Drummond. Dr. Raymond moved the adoption of the resolution and was kokuued by all present.

Attorney Breckons returned to Honolulu the same evening, following the successful outcome of his mission.

School Tax Law to Have Opposition

Maui Losing Money Under Present System—Territorial Control of Schools Will Have Opposition—Committee Will Draft Bills.

That the plan which is being worked up in Honolulu to put the public school management entirely in the hands of the Territory, is not going to have smooth sailing through the legislature, was evident on Thursday during the conference of the Board of Supervisors and the Maui legislative delegation. The plan was declared by general to be a step backwards instead of forwards.

It is also certain that there will be a kick made to have the plan of apportioning the school taxes amended. Under the present system of dumping all school taxes into one pot, it was declared that Maui gets the short end of the deal to the tune of about $100,000 per year. In other words, Maui's money goes to support the Oahu schools to very considerable degree.

At the meeting where this discussion came up, were present, beside the supervisors—Senators H. A. Baldwin, H. B. Penhallow, W. T. Robinson, Representatives P. J. Goodness, Robt. Nawahine, and W. F. Crockett. Besides the legislators there were also present County engineer Howell, former supervisor William Henning, and others.

The discussion was very general, and brought out many ideas relative to needed legislation. Dr. Raymond made the declaration that with proper businesslike administration the county of Maui will be able from her ordinary sources of revenue, to construct all roads, bridges, waterworks, and other public improvements in sight that properly belong to the county, within a period of seven years and have them of a standard equal to any in the world.

The importance of getting at least $50,000 appropriated by the legislature to build roads in the Kulaha homesteads was agreed to all around, and a good deal of time taken in discussion of the best means for accomplishing this.

It was finally agreed that the supervisors should appoint a legislative committee which shall lose no time in working out details of legislation needed for Maui, and embodying these in bills properly drafted.

Former Maui Man and Wife Die in Surf

While wading on the reef at Waikiki, Honolulu, on New Year's day, Isaac Ihiki and his wife were carried off their feet by a big wave and into a deep channel, where both drowned before help could reach them.

Rosie, the 10-year old adopted daughter of the unfortunate couple, and Pemograna De Rego, an 11-year old companion, were being carried on the backs of the man and woman when the accident occurred, and would have drowned also but for the heroic efforts of Harold Castle and Edward Miller, whose attention was attracted and who swam out to the party. Miller and Castle made a second trip into the surf and brought the bodies of Ihiki and his wife ashore, but efforts to resuscitate them failed.

The dead man was a deputy in the bureau of conveyances, and was enjoying the New Year's holiday when the accident happened. He was formerly a resident of Maui, having been born in Lahaina fifty years ago. The remains of the couple were brought to Lahaina for interment.

Supervisors Vote to Keep Prisoners

Talk of Sending Kuiaha Road Gang Back to Honolulu Opposed By Chamber of Commerce—Urge More Efficient Management.

The territorial prisoners who are working on the roads in the Kulaha district, are to be kept on Maui indefinitely and for a long time to come, provided the wishes of the board of supervisors are respected in the matter. The board adopted a resolution to this effect at its Thursday afternoon session, after it had been waited upon by a committee from the chamber of commerce.

The sending of this committee to the board was a development of the chamber of commerce meeting the same afternoon, when it was brought out that the prisoners were very shortly to be sent back to Honolulu. Inasmuch as the chamber had been in a measure responsible for getting the prison labor for Maui in the first place, this proposition did not meet with favor, and a committee consisting of W. A. Baldwin, W. O. Aiken, and E. R. Bevin was named to see the board about the matter, with the results as above stated. Maintenance of the prisoners costs, it was stated, about 50 cents per day per man.

Much criticism was made in the chamber meeting of the manner in which the road work is being done in the homestead district, it being stated that practically all the work was being done by hand, whereas the county fathers had promised to concentrate the entire working force of the county, particularly the county teams, on this work. W. A. Baldwin told the board that the Haku Fruit & Packing Company would rent all the mules needed to the county at 75 cents per day. The sentiment of the board seemed to be that team work should be employed.

A. L. Case is Burned Painfully

Automobile Takes Fire in Unusual Manner While Owner is Cleaning Engine—Electric Spark Supposed Cause—Car Saved From Damage

Painful though not dangerous are the burns which A. L. Case, supervising principal of the Maui schools, sustained last Sunday morning in a peculiar accident, while engaged in cleaning the engine of his automobile at his home in Hamakua. While brushing the mechanism with a metal brush saturated in gasoline, the volatile fluid suddenly ignited, and before he could escape the flames had spread over his left arm, face and neck. At a water hydrant nearby, Mr. Case succeeded in extinguishing his blazing clothing, while W. S. Beeman, principal of the Hamakua high school who happened to be near, managed to put out the fire which had started in the oil pan of the auto.

Mr. Case was removed to the Pala hospital, where his injuries were dressed and where he will be confined for another week or more.

The presumable cause of the accident was a spark from the electric ignition equipment of the car. The metal brush which Mr. Case was using, is supposed to have short-circuited the current causing a sufficient spark to ignite the gasoline with which the brush was saturated.

Mr. Case's wife and her sister, Miss Coupe, who were in Honolulu at the time, and who sailed for the coast by the Manoa on Tuesday, were not advised of the accident.

SAVE THE KUIAHA HOMESTEADERS.

The Maui Chamber of Commerce, the Maui Board of Supervisors, and the Maui delegation to the legislature are unanimous in the matter of getting roads for the Kuiaha homestead district. The matter was again in the limelight this week, and received the serious attention of these several most representative bodies. Moreover Governor Pinkham and his administration are virtually pledged to this same proposition. Besides this a hundred or more Civic Convention and Ad Club delegates, who had a chance to see conditions in the homesteads a few months ago, stand ready, individually and collectively, to lend their support to some plan which will give the people in the Kuiaha district a chance to make good. They haven't that chance now.

With such wide understanding of the situation as this, Maui's delegation in the legislature should not find difficulty in getting an emergency appropriation by which at least $50,000 would be appropriated and made available before the legislature adjourns. It won't do to bury this project in some general appropriation or road bill, of more or less indefinite and untested character. If the most promising homesteading proposition ever undertaken in the Territory is to be saved, it must have specific and prompt attention. Already there are signs of disintegration of this most promising community. The people out there are being literally starved out, and for almost no other reason than lack of roads.

WAKE UP! MAUI SPORTSMEN!

The Maui Racing Association will hold its annual meeting next Tuesday evening. There shouldn't be any apathy among Maui people over this meeting; but as one its members admitted this week, the organization "badly needs a good stirring up." Maui can really not afford to neglect this association which came into existence almost thirty years ago, and which has a record that any community might well be proud of. During all that time its members have stood for clean sport, and to this, and this alone, is due the fact that the organization has been able to survive. Sport for sport's sake, and the love of fine animals, have been the motives that have won on more than one occasion when misguided efforts on the part of individuals would have let down the bars to questionable practices. No other place in the Territory has such a record, and but few places anywhere can boast a racing association with so long and honorable a career. Members of an organization like this shouldn't need stirring up.

THE HALEAKALA HIKERS.

The importance to Maui of the Hume Ford tramping excursion through Haleakala crater should not be underestimated. It was really a remarkable performance and one that no one except a genius such as Ford could have carried through. To Maui it means that more than one hundred wide-awake people have seen Maui's greatest asset in a most impressive manner. If they suffered in the process, it has not hurt the Island. The kicks about the trip—and there were some strenuous kickers in that bunch—were all aimed at Ford, and he can stand it. Maui did not suffer. Like all geniuses Mr. Ford has his shortcomings, and in this instance they manifested themselves in lack of attention to details, with the result that a lot of needless discomfort followed. But the stunt will long stand as a top-notch, and Maui is the winner. All credit to Ford.

PINEAPPLES AND PROFITS.

The conviction is growing that Hawaii really can grow more pineapples than the rest of the world can eat. If this is true there can be but one result—the Islands must slacken up on production until the demand catches up. If the prediction of a disinterested mainland jobber is of any value, it will mean that the growers are to have several more years of prices for their product that will not cover cost of production. Of course the farmer can't stand a great deal of this kind of thing. He must sooner or later go broke or learn to grow other crops that will show a balance on the right side of the ledger. Fortunately the prospect of being able to do this is brighter now than it has ever before been in Hawaii. The pineapple glut may after all be a blessing in disguise.

A WARNING TO BOOZE-FIGHTING CHAUFFEURS.

If Honolulu had a district magistrate of the caliber of Judge McKay, the Oahu press would not be forced to chronicle almost daily the crimes and blunders of irresponsible and drunken auto drivers. Judge McKay uses plain common sense in his court, which is the kind of justice that the public will endorse. A fine of $35 and the revocation of a license is not too severe a penalty for a public chauffeur, who gets drunk, even if he didn't happen to kill anybody.

Let the legislature specifically outline a few of the duties popularly supposed to go with the office of Territorial auditor, and the proposed new "department of the Comptroller" will not be needed. What's the use of the Auditor's department anyhow if it doesn't audit? If it had been covering the field as everybody thought it was, up to the time the Hawaii county graft scandal broke, there probably never would have been any scandal to break.

Hilo sportsmen are trying to work up steam enough to hold a race meet next Fourth of July. Better forget it and come to Maui on the Fourth. Maui has a recognized claim to this day. For thirty years horse-racing has been an annual Fourth of July event here, and Maui sportsmen are only too glad to welcome the cooperation of the rest of the Territory.

A way for the promoters of the Waikiki beach amusement pier scheme to get around objection would be to build a subway instead of a pier. A well designed structure arising from the waves a mile off shore with no visible shore connection would beat the pier idea all hollow as a novelty, and shouldn't be objectionable from any viewpoint.

William Range, aged 19, and Dan Oplio, 16, two youths from Keanae, were tried in the local magistrate's court this week on the charge of larceny in the second degree. The boys pleaded guilty to having stolen at different times from the tunnel gang working near Kailua, about half a box of giant powder, together with caps and fuse. The explosives they used in dynamiting fish. The young offenders will be sentenced next Monday.

PUUNENE HAS FINE LUAU AND DANCE.

Three luau and dance given by the Puunene Athletic Club on New Year's evening, was one of the most delightful affairs of the kind ever given by this popular club. It was the annual event, given in celebration of the Puunene baseball championship for the island. The luau was a sumptuous one, several hundred persons enjoying it. Following the luau the club house dancing hall was thronged with merry couples until a late hour.

In the Movies

Delay in getting the scenery painted and the arrival of the seats for the new Valley Isle Theater, have prevented the new play house from opening on the first of the year as had been hoped by the promoters. It has resulted also in the Maui Theater's remaining open, though this house is now managed by the Valley Isle management. M. T. Lyons, the new manager, is putting on some good pictures and has been securing some heavy patronage.

The Wailuku Orpheum also continues to attract strongly. Manager Pharos has made arrangements to turn the house over to the local Japanese community for the benefit of a Japanese educational fund, on the first Monday of each month. The first of these nights was last Monday when the house was packed. One of the features of this entertainment was a series of stage tricks performed by J. Uchida, an amateur, who it is said purchased the secret of a number of stunts from the Jansen company which was here a few weeks ago.

The Orpheum drew a good attendance on Tuesday night when the interesting story, "The Master Mind," was on. Thursday evening also saw a good house to see the Oriental picture, "Fire and Sword."

The Kahului Lyceum also reports some capacity houses this week, the attractions being a special series of Mary Pickford pictures and some of the popular Keystone comedies.

NEW YEAR'S AT HAIKU.

Of the various New Year's entertainments on Maui, none was probably more enjoyable than the dinner given by Mr. James Lindsay, at his home at Haiku. Those who sat down to the sumptuous board were: Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robertson, of Honolulu; Mr. and Mrs. Will J. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsay, Miss Fearn, Miss Lindsay, Miss Agnes Lindsay, Miss Isabel Lindsay, Miss Mary Lindsay, Mr. Hood, Mr. James Lindsay, Masters Walter and James Lindsay.

PLEASED WITH MAUI.

Mrs. C. O. Bell, of Denver, Mrs. L. R. Wallace, of Miami, Arizona, Mrs. Anna C. Murdock, of Boston, and Mrs. Ethel E. Morse, of Boston, comprise a party of visitors to the Islands, who are spending some time on Maui. They have headquarters at the Maui Hotel, and are taking in the sights in leisurely fashion. Mrs. Wallace visited Maui some years ago, and was so well pleased with the place that she has returned bringing her friends with her.

SURVEYING ROAD IN PIHOLO HOMESTEADS.

A. C. Wheeler, assistant superintendent of public works, with A. C. McEldowney and A. Coney, of the public works staff, arrived on Wednesday evening to begin the survey of the new road through the Pihoilo homestead lots, on the slopes of Haleakala, just below Olinda. Mr. Wheeler will return to Honolulu this week, and Mr. McEldowney will be in charge of the work which will last for several weeks. The road to be built will not only open up a new homestead tract, but will form a link to the projected Haleakala summit road.

ASK TO HAVE INSPECTION MADE.

The management of the Valley Isle Theater appeared before the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon, and asked that the board appoint a competent person to pass up on their new building as to its safety. They stated that this was in anticipation that the board will pass a building ordinance, and they wish to have their place in conformity with any such measure. County Engineer Howell was named by the board to make the inspection as requested.

Telegraph News of the Week.

ALLIES CLAIM GAINS IN FIERCE FIGHTING.

LONDON, January 7.—The French have made perceptible advance in Alsace. Interest in fighting has centered upon terrific struggle where French are forging ahead, as admitted by Berlin dispatches.

Aitkirck was scene of terrific infantry attack made on St. Georges where Paris claims victory.

By reports of Teutons, situation in Argonne, is still disputed.

Members of the house of lords appeared in royal robes to hear Kitchen-er's account of the war; also ladies in mourning for relatives lost in battle. Hero of Soudan throws light on Russian victories in Poland and Caucasus and advance of French troops through Alsace districts.

MANY FRENCH ARE STARVING.

American commissioner Hoover reports thousands of French peasants starving in valley Meuse. Such food as they receive comes from limited store of Belgians.

GERMANS ARREST CARDINAL.

LONDON, January 7.—Cardinal Mercieu has been placed under arrest by German authorities in Belgium for advising Catholics not to recognize German administration.

GERMANS MAKE AERIAL RAID.

DUNKIRK, January 7.—German aircraft raided here today and dropped bombs into town. When driven away by Allies, they returned repeatedly to attack. Zeppelin's were seen sailing towards English coast.

Berlin announces that aerial attack included many towns in Belgium. King Albert was forced to move headquarters. Damage inflicted in Dunkirk practically nil.

LODGE CONDEMNS MEXICAN POLICY.

WASHINGTON, January 7.—Senator Lodge made bitter attack on administration's "watchful waiting" as applied to Mexican trouble. Says it is almost too late to avoid military occupation of Mexico.

PRESIDENT PASSES THE BUCK.

LABOR UNIONS LOSE IN COURT.

WILL DO OWN SEARCHING HEREAFTER.

America will search her own ships to obviate British action in this respect.

Possibility of land slides in canal will not interfere with navy's plans for procession.

EXPECT ACTIVITY IN BALKANS.

PARIS, January 6.—A dozen French and British war correspondents left for Roumania on receipt of news which leads them to expect important developments in Balkans.

TURKISH DISASTER REMOVES MENACE.

PETROGRAD, January 6.—Defeat of Turks by Russians in big battle at Sarikamshih is complete. Ninth Turkish corps annihilated. One Russian company captured Iskham Pasha. His men cut in three divisions. Tenth corps endeavoring to escape. Turks show great bravery. Possibility of Turkish invasion of Egypt remote. Will also obviate withdrawal of forces from Polish and Galician front.

UNUSUAL FIGHTING IN FRANCE.

PARIS, January 6.—Two German infantry attacks repulsed south-east of St. Georges. Artillery engagements taking place east of Wear to Forest Argonne.

RUSSIA CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTORY.

PETROGRAD, January 6.—Prezmysl garrison attempted to storm investing Russian force. Russians pretended retreat, then surrounded and destroyed or captured Austrians.

WINTER IS RUSSIA'S POWERFUL ALLY.

LONDON, January 6.—Austrian army in retreat to Uzsak Pass, is in desperate straits according to dispatches. Many men are dropping out of retreat exhausted, to be captured by Russians, or die in storm.

TURKISH COLUMN ROUTED.

PETROGRAD, January 6.—Plan of invasion of Russian southern provinces resulted in complete failure of three columns of German-led Turkish troops. Two are hopelessly defeated and are in full retreat.

ANOTHER "DECISIVE" MEXICAN BATTLE.

VERA CRUZ, January 6.—Villa-Zapatta army routed by Carranza forces at City of Pueblo. With ninety-six pieces artillery and 30,000 men, Obrihan invested enemy's stronghold and reduced it after sharp fight. 15,000 rebels reduced under fire of machine guns. Is probably a decisive victory.

FIERCE RACE FOR POSITION WON BY ALLIES.

THANN, January 5.—Desperate race of three miles at rocky declivity between French and German mountain artillery detachments proved an important victory for Allies, in contest for Steinbach. Steinbach is gateway to Alsace and commands important arteries of communication. French surprised German artillery as it was ascending. Took short cut and made race for summit reaching there five minutes ahead of Teutons. Five minutes later German battery was annihilated. Possession of this point enabled French to send reinforcements across river Thur and closely invest Steinbach.

FRENCH SOLDIERS APPROACH RHEIN.

LONDON, January 5.—French right wing within thirty miles of Rhein. French and German bulletins mention fighting east of Steinbach showing further advance of French right. French report capture of Creus D'Argent. Indicates another thrust into Alsace, about fourteen miles west of Colmar.

FRENCH PUSHING AHEAD UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

PARIS, January 5.—In spite of hard rains and much mud, we have advanced towards Nieupport and from St. Georges between 200 and 500 yards and occupying houses and capturing some trenches. Between rivers Oise and Lys our mortars and grenade work have completely stopped enemy entrenching.

TRIED RECIPES

Meat Pie Case.—Roll paste to one fourth inch in thickness and shape over an inverted baking dish. Prick several times with a fork, place on tin sheet, bake in a hot oven, and remove from dish. Roll paste to one fourth inch in thickness and cut a cover of correct size to fit pastry case. Cut several pieces from cover to form and design, prick, place on sheet, and bake in a hot oven. Cut and bake shapes in the form of horns of plenty to garnish top of chicken pie, when used for the Thanksgiving feast, and from horns, lets sprigs of parsley peep out. This makes an attractive decoration which can be easily and quickly made. Pastry cases for meat pies should be reheated, then filled with mixture just before serving time.

Rules That Will Assist You in Turning Out Excellent Cake.

One of the most thorough recipe books gives a list of rules for making cake, which, if they are carefully followed, will result in good cake nine times out of ten. Good cake is a matter of carefulness and precision. Have the weights and measures exact. Do not mix the cake until the oven is entirely ready for it to go in. Sift the flour before measuring it. If baking powder or cream of tartar is used, sift it with the flour.

Mix the cake in an earthen bowl with a wooden spoon. Beat the yolks and whites of the eggs separately. Grease the tins with lard, as butter blackens. Add a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt to all cakes. If the cake cracks open as it rises, too much flour has been used. If it rises in a cone in the center the oven is too hot. Beating eggs and butter makes them light; beating flour makes it tough; therefore always add the flour last. In filling the pans let the mixture be a little higher on the sides than in the middle. When the whipped whites are added do not stir, but turn them in lightly, so as not to break the air cells.

The oven should be only moderately hot at first, so that the cake can get heated through and can rise before forming a crust. The heat should then be increased.

Woman's Occupation.
When a woman builds a house she wants plenty of closets. Then she spends most of her time looking in them for burglars.

Double Lack of Understanding.
One half of the world, dissatisfied with what it has, can't understand how the other half can be dissatisfied with what it hasn't.

Wisdom of the Ancients.
There is but little in a woman's advice; yet he that won't take it is not otherwise.—Cervantes.

Daily Thought.
People who are nobly happy constitute the power, the beauty and the foundation of the state.—Jean Finot.

Haleakala Hikers Had Hard Trip

Foot-Sore Hundred Reached Central Maui Sunday Morning After Two Days on Mountain—Some of Them Don't Want to do it Again.

It was a pretty well frazzled bunch of hikers that straggled into Kahului last Sunday, after making the strenuous trip of some forty or fifty miles from Kaupo, through the Haleakala crater, and down by way of Olinda. There were 122 of the Trail and Mountain Club excursionists from Honolulu who arrived at the Kaupo landing bright and early New Year's morning, and of this number over one hundred made the tramp across the crater on foot.

Although several of the members in the big party were completely down and out by the time they reached Olinda on Saturday night, most of them stood the trip better than might have been expected and while there were some very sore feet and aching muscles the general verdict was that the experience was "worth the money."

Kicks About the Grub.

The party was favored by good weather, and although the two nights spent on the mountain top were far from comfortable to most of the crowd, the weather in the day time was delightful.

A good deal of kick was heard concerning the commissariat of the outfit. Hardtack, canned beans, chocolate and raisins was a new and not entirely satisfying ration to most of the party; who probably expected roast beef and banana fritters. Some of the real kickers declared that they had been practically starved.

Alexander Hume Ford, the instigator of the excursion, was with the party, as were also Gordon and Gilbert Brown, of this island, who acted as guides. Worth O. Aiken met the party in the crater and accompanied it back to his place at Olinda, where most of the trampers camped the second night. One of the hikers, Edward Webster, had to be carried part of the way into Olinda.

Hikers Got Lost.

The trampers scattered badly on the march, and some of the stragglers got so far behind that they got lost and volunteers went back for them. Others forged far ahead, and one party tramped on to Wailuku Saturday night by moonlight. A considerable number took automobiles from Olinda, thus easing the last part of the journey. The crowd reassembled at Kahului and took the Claudine for home at six o'clock Sunday evening. While to some extent, there was a lack of management, everyone had a word of praise for Mr. Ford for the manner in which he engineered the trip. Practically the entire burden of responsibility rested on his shoulders and his work paved the way for the Trail and Mountain club to engineer other excursions under his supervision.

Those Who Made the Trip.

The full list of all of those who made the trip is as follows:

Anti-Saloon Work Has Been Active

Superintendent Tells What Has Been Accomplished By the Honolulu Organization During Year Just Ended Big Campaign Planned For 1915.

Rev. J. W. Wadman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, has made the following brief report of the League's work for the year 1914:

"Along lines educational.—All schools of the territory, with very few exceptions, public and private, of two rooms and up, have been visited and addresses made to the pupils, while most of the Honolulu schools have been visited twice.

"Along lines of the Lincoln-Lee pledge signing campaign.—More than 1200 have been added to our roll of honor as "Knights of the Button" with its cross set in red, white and blue, making a present total membership of 2300.

"Along publicity lines.—From six to eight articles as a weekly average, bearing on the great temperance advance movement have been prepared in different languages and sent out to the daily press of the territory, making a total for the year of over 3000.

"Tracts and pamphlets.—Several thousands of them, donated or purchased have been freely distributed in various tongues, while attractive colored posters have been used with telling effect.

"The world's temperance Sunday.—November 8 was generally observed in all churches and Bible schools throughout the Territory and reports reach us indicating good results.

"Three saloons in the so-called public market zone were given notice to relocate January 1, 1915. They are now doing so. No new liquor emporiums during the year were opened in Honolulu. The U. S. Spanish War Veterans' Club has been closed so have two dance halls, and none too soon. Waikiki Inn was compelled to dismiss its former manager and open up business on a more respectable basis.

"Police and district courts have been visited. Assistance rendered the authorities (where possible) in the enforcement of law for civic betterment.

"Four or five bills are in process of preparation for the coming legislature in order to secure some improvements in our liquor legislation.

"Our expenses for the year have more than doubled last year's but friends and patrons have been sympathetic and generous, so we start with a clean ledger New Year's day.

"Plans for 1915 have been made contemplating some bigger things still.

"The League will need on a very economical basis at least $6,500 toward this. Every dollar counts large."

Maui Clergyman in Hilo Church Pulpit

Hawaii Herald.—Among the arriving passengers on the Mauna Kea yesterday morning was the Rev. J. Knox Bodel, of Lahaina, Maui, who is coming to Hilo to fill the pulpit at the Church of the Holy Apostles for the next two Sundays.

There is a possibility that Mr. Bodel may remain permanently in Hilo and, if the necessary arrangements can be made, the bishop may appoint him to the local church.

On Maui Mr. Bodel is in charge of the Holy Innocents' Church at Lahaina, Maui, and he, at times, also conducts services at Wailuku when the clergyman of the parish is away on a business trip. Mr. Bodel says that he thinks Hilo a fine town and that he would like to settle here. The four years he spent on Maui are not regretted, and the Valley Island has a large claim on the affections of the reverend gentleman.

One Idea of Popular Songs.

Popular songs are the yellow journals of melody. They have dash and color and are widely received, and they live as long as a lighted match.—Puck.

OUR ISLAND CONTEMPORARIES

VARIED SCENES.

Sugar cane, bananas and coconuts at the foot of the mountain; snow and volcanic fires at the summit; these are some of the scenes to be seen on the island of Hawaii. Where on earth could the sights be duplicated? And, where on earth is there an active volcano which can be reached by automobile? It is astounding to think that tourists arrive at Honolulu and then remain there without making the Hilo trip. And, not only tourists, but people who are now settled in business there. Hundreds of them have never seen Hilo and, as for the wonderful volcano, they do not seem to be aware that such a place exists.—Hawaii Herald.

A WORD TO SMALL FARMERS.

Anyone who has read Jack London's graphic story, "The Valley of the Moon," will remember how the young couple came to Mrs. Mortimer's little ranch near San Jose and learned from her the secret of her phenomenal success as a small farmer, viz: A producer of a special, high-class article to meet a special high-class demand. Her vegetables, her berries, her apples, her eggs, her butter, her milk, brought top-notch prices because they were noted for quality, and because they catered to a demand that was not otherwise met.

The average demand is met by the average producer at an average price. The large producer finds a satisfactory profit in this, but the small farmer cannot make a living out of his limited output on so narrow a margin. He must have an extra price for an extra fine article. The Garden Island, being itself, in a way, a small producer, would recommend the policy to the small farmer, and charges nothing for the "tip."

There are nearly 25,000 people on this island. Most of them, perhaps, are quite satisfied with such farm and garden products as may be imported from abroad—more or less stale—or may be raised at home by undisciplined Orientals. But there are some of us who would greatly appreciate the finer qualities of the special, and the home-grown, and would be willing to pay a special price for the same.

The only banana, for instance, that is met with in the ordinary course of experience on Kauai is the common, Chinese variety. Even if you are particularly fond of bananas, you get tired of the same thing day after day. Now, there are other bananas that far outrank the Chinese in every quality except, perhaps, cheapness. The "maia maole", or cooking banana, the "popo-ulu", the "ho-lena", and others, which lend themselves to various most delicious and appetizing dishes. At present these bananas can be had only from Kona, at the cost of two voyages, two handlings, two freights and much uncertainty. In sheltered hollows they could be grown just as successfully here at home as in Kona; and the enterprising farmer, who would raise them would find a certain market and good prices, where now he must feed his Chinese bananas to the chickens.

Sweet potatoes are another thing. The ordinary product of the Oriental vegetable man is a tasteless, watery article, not worthy of a place on the table. People we know have been tempted to procure sweet potatoes from Southern California by parcels post, because it is so hard to get good ones here. Now, there is no reason in the world why the very best of sweet potatoes should not be raised here and find a ready and appreciative market, at good prices.

The same thing is true of dairy products. Practically all our butter and most of our cream and milk come from California. Their one recommendation is that they are cheap, and we can get the goods. Some of us, anyway, would be willing to pay more for the fresh article, home produced and good, if we could get it. Surely there is a field here for profitable endeavor.

KULA NOTES.

WAIKOA, January 6.—The Kula Farmers' Co-operative Association will meet at the home of George Copp, Sunday afternoon, January 10, at 2:30 o'clock, to consider the best plan for establishing a store and store-house for the association.

Prof. Krauss spent two days last week in Kula with his engine and bean thrasher. A demonstration was given at Waikoa. At the present time all this work is done by hand with a flail. Much interest was taken by the farmers of the district in the machine, but feel that their greatest need at present is for a fanning mill to clean the beans after thrashing.

We are told that the market is too limited—that one farmer, if he went into bananas or sweet potatoes, or butter, would swamp the market and have his goods left on his hands to spoil. Doubtless if he raised only the one article; if he devoted his whole farm to bananas, or sweet potatoes, or butter—that would happen. But he will know better than that, and will keep his ear to the ground and forestall the needs and tastes of his market and will give his patrons—like Sam Weiler—just enough of any good thing to make them wish there were more.

This, the beginning of a new year and of new plans, is a good time for the small farmers of the various homesteading district to take these matters into serious consideration.—Garden Island.

BOUQUETS.

Postmaster Waal, of Lahaina, Maui, has been informed twice that his successor was about to be appointed but, although two men were nominated for the position, neither took office and Waal is still postmaster, a position he has held with the greatest credit for the past fifteen years. It is hard to keep a good man down.—Hawaii Herald.

WOULD STAND ASSESSMENT.

Honolulu had a very successful carnival at a very small price last year, and, if the funds on hand are not sufficient to finance the carnival this year without another assessment on the stock of the Mid-Pacific Carnival, Limited, there will be practically no objection to another assessment. Only ten per cent was paid in originally, and very few who subscribed expected to get off with only one levy. It is generally recognized that much of last year's profits went to pay for the bleachers and for other property now an asset of the corporation. The directors do not want to rate Honolulu too cheaply. If there is something to pay to make the carnival the success we want, tell us about it. Honolulu will rise to the occasion, as usual.—Pacific Commercial Advertiser.

WHY KAUAI HAS GOOD ROADS.

In a conference at Honolulu, the editor of The Garden Island was asked for the secret of Kauai's good roads, as against Oahu's very poor ones. "Well," was the reply, "I think probably the material used in road construction is better." "And you have a better engineer," boldly added one of the gentlemen present. We accept the amendment.—Garden Island.

KAUAI HOMESTEADERS NEED HELP.

Waipouli homesteaders have gone to Honolulu to make a fight for shipping facilities and a cannery. This is strenuous action, and they deserve credit for it. Moreover, they should succeed in their efforts. Opinions may differ as to just what should be done but there can be no question on the point that something must be done.—Garden Island.

DOESN'T LIKE WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Several objections may be advanced to the proposed measure extending the right to vote to women in the Islands. Not the least is that it would double the irresponsible vote of the various counties, and would not proportionately increase the strength of the element upon which we are dependent for wise legislation and good government. We can understand why Kulu has leanings toward woman suffrage but we fail to follow the ideas of certain people more or less openly supporting him in the proposition.—Garden Island.

Chauffeur Loses License and is Fined For Drunkenness

Because he was drunk on December 24th, and ditched his machine, Manuel Martins, Jr., driver of an automobile in the local rent service, was fined $35 and had his license revoked, by Judge McKay, of the district court, this week. John Barleycorn was the only one in the mix-line with Martins at the time he had his mixup with a double road, and a multiple ditch near the electric power house. He pleaded guilty. Martins is the chauffeur who ran over and killed a small Spanish child near the Puunene school about two years ago. There was no evidence that he was not sober on that occasion.

BY AUTHORITY

PROCLAMATION.

UNDER and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the provisions of Section 106, Chapter 8, of the Revised Laws of Hawaii, and of every other power me hereunto enabling, I, LUCIUS E. PINKHAM, Governor of Hawaii, having been duly petitioned by fifty voters of the 12th Precinct of the Third Representative District, Territory of Hawaii, for a division of said precinct into two separate precincts, and there appearing to be good reasons therefor, do hereby change the precinct boundaries and polling places of the Eleventh and Twelfth Precincts and reestablish the Eighth Precinct of said district so that the boundaries and polling places of said precincts shall be as follows:

EIGHTH PRECINCT.—The portion of Makawao district bounded as follows: On the West by the East edge of the Maliko Gulch; on the North by the sea; on the East by the West edge of Halehaku Gulch; and on the South by a line along the Makawao-Huelo Road to its junction with the New Hamakua Ditch in the bottom of the Huluhulu-nui or Kaupakulua Gulch, thence along the New Hamakua Ditch to the East edge of the Maliko Gulch.

POLLING PLACE, Kuiaha School House. ELEVENTH PRECINCT.—The portion of Makawao district bounded as follows: on the West and North by the Wailuku district and the new Hamakua Ditch to its junction with the Makawao-Huelo road in the bottom of the Huluhulu-nui or Kaupakulua Gulch, thence along said road to the Halehaku Gulch; on the East by the West edge of the Halehaku Gulch; and on the South by the Tenth Precinct.

POLLING PLACE, Makawao School House. TWELFTH PRECINCT.—The portion of Makawao district North of the Eleventh Precinct South of the sea and between the East edge of the Maliko Gulch and the boundary of Wailuku district.

POLLING PLACE, Paia School House. IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory of Hawaii to be affixed.

On the Other Islands

Armstrong Convicted. William F. Armstrong, convicted of embezzling three bonds of the Oahu Sugar Company from the Loyal Order of Moose, was sentenced by Judge Ashford, in the Honolulu circuit court to serve two years in the penitentiary.

Thayer To Dedicate Building. Territorial Secretary Wade Warren Thayer left on the transport this week for San Francisco where he will accept the Hawaii building at the Panama-Pacific exposition from the contractors, and formally open it.

Can't Bar Alien Labor. Secretary of War Garrison, replying to a protest of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce against the employment of Japanese alien labor on the Schofield barracks construction, declines to interfere, on the ground that he lacks legal authority so to do.

Fighting Amusement Program. A strenuous fight is on in Honolulu on the matter of the proposed amusement pier, application for a permit for which is now before the Harbor Commissioners. Advocates for the project claim that it will be an asset, while opponents hold that it will mar the beauty of Waikiki and interfere with bathing and surfing.

Tuberculosis Victim Suicides. When she was told by the doctors that she was a sufferer from the dread white plague, Chi Niino, a 19-year old Japanese girl of Honolulu filled the sleeves of her kimono with stones and jumped into the harbor. Her dead body was discovered last Sunday.

Duke Breaks Own Record. A cable message from Sydney announces that Duke Kahanamoku had made 100 yards in the remarkable time of 0:53 4-5, or a full second less than he made the distance in Honolulu last June. Cunha, who is also participating in the Australian swimming meet, also defeated Barry, the crack Australian swimmer, according to the cable.

Desha Would Resign. According to the Hilo Tribune, County Auditor George L. Desha is ready to resign if asked to by the board of supervisors. It was understood that Desha was asked to resign but that he holds that the request was made by individual members of the board and not by formal resolution. It is stated that Desha is held responsible for failure to get a balance of the county's accounts.

Newspaper Man Weds. Phil B. Danky, veteran waterfront reporter of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, and well known all over the Territory, was married last week to Miss Claire Elein Shafer, also of Honolulu.

Burglar Robs Depot. An unknown burglar broke into the Hakalau depot one night last week and got away with $106 in cash.

New Home Insurance Company. Hilo capitalists have organized "The Hawaiian Insurance and Guaranty Company" with capital of $100,000, of which $50,000 has been paid in. John Moir is president, H. V. Patten, secretary, and H. B. Mariner, treasurer.

No Inspector Now. Postoffice Inspector Knight, who encountered bad health in the Islands, has returned from Honolulu to San Francisco, giving up the work in the Islands entirely. It is presumed that another inspector from the mainland will be detailed to take his place.

Big Dividend Month. Probably two and a half million dollars was paid out in dividends accruing to the sugar industry in Hawaii during the month of December, 1914. The twenty-four plantations listed on the Honolulu stock and bond exchange paid out an aggregate dividend of $1,496,024.25, leaving twenty-one unlisted (privately owned) plantations to swell the known dividends to the estimated two and a half million dollars.

Joy Riders Again Kill Pedestrian and Escape. An automobile filled with joy-riders, struck and almost instantly killed Kuapili, an aged Hawaiian, on King street, near the Kamehameha schools, on New Year's morning. After striking the man, the electric lights on the car were switched off in order that the car's number might not be taken, and the party escaped. The car is said to have contained a number of white women.

Governor Pinkham Visits Prison. Governor Pinkham visited Oahu prison on New Year's day and shook hands with every inmate in the institution.

Big Plans For New Legislation

Important Bills Which Will Probably Be Introduced By Citizen Body at Next Legislature—Some Strong Measures Advocated.

The speakers at the meeting were J. W. Wadman, W. L. Whitney, W. P. Ferguson, A. K. Harris, Dr. J. S. B. Pratt, C. H. Dickey, Mrs. W. F. Dillingham, H. W. Kinney, J. A. Rath and Mrs. L. L. McCandless.

Postponed Concert to Be Given Next Week

The concert planned by Mrs. Bessie Abbott Howland, Miss Powers, and Mrs. Elsa Cross Howard, which was postponed from last Tuesday evening, is to be given one evening next week, at the Wailuku Orpheum, the exact date to be announced later.

The program has been arranged so as to be entertaining without too many heavy numbers. The special item for the little folks will be the charming story of "The Little Mermaid" told by that old wizard-maker of fairy tales, Hans Anderson, and retold on this occasion by Miss Charlotte Powers, whose dramatic ability never fails to arouse the interest of her audiences, the beautiful songs of the little mermaid will be sung by Mrs. Bessie Abbott Howland, and her dances will be danced by Mrs. Elsa C. Howard. The rest of the program is full of unique items and is bright and sparkling from beginning to end.

Engle=Spicer

Miss Pearl Spicer, well known as a teacher in the Punene school, and Mr. William H. Engle, of the staff of the Baldwin National Bank, were married on Monday of this week, in Hilo, where Miss Spicer had been visiting friends for some time past. The popular young couple are expected home some time next week when they will receive the congratulations and well wishes of their many friends on Maui. They will probably go to housekeeping shortly in Kahului.

Martin Eden in Wailuku Next Week

One of Jack London's Strongest Stories Which Has Been Most Effectively Filmed Should Be Great Drawing Card—Said to Equal "Sea-Wolf."

"Martin Eden," another of Jack London's red-blooded stories of life as he saw it in the South Seas, has been filmed by Bosworth and will be the Famous Players offering at the Wailuku Orpheum next Tuesday evening. Heralded by mainland critics as the equal of the Sea Wolf, Martin Eden is expected to prove a popular Maui attraction, the former having been declared locally to be one of the greatest films ever shown here.

Jack London's own life story is interwoven in "Martin Eden," as it is in all of the works from his pen. The story tells of how from the hard-won leadership of a hoodlum gang in Oakland, from a beach-comber's life in the South Seas and from the inferno of the stoker's hole, Martin Eden, an unlearned sailor, wins his way to fame and fortune. But it is not until great odds have been conquered and much has been sacrificed that the goal is reached. And then it is too late.

"Martin Eden" is introduced and closed, as in all the Bosworth productions of London's works, with an autographed medallion of the author, also by a 20-foot view of London in his home in Glen Ellen, Cal.

Precinct Changes Are Proclaimed By Governor

The official proclamation of the Governor, subdividing the present 12th precinct and making a number of other changes in the precinct boundaries, appears in the "By Authority" columns of this issue. As was petitioned for, the new precinct includes all of that part of the 12th precinct to the eastward of Maliko gulch, with the addition of that part of the present 11th precinct lying to northward of the Huelo-Makawao road and the New Hamakua Ditch line. The voting place will be the Kalia school house in the heart of the homestead tract. The new precinct will be known as No. 8.

The polling place of the 12th precinct is to be moved from Hamakua-poko to the Pala school house.

Racing Association Meeting Next Week

A meeting of the Maui Racing Association has been called for next Tuesday evening at the Town Hall, Wailuku. This is the annual meeting and officers for the ensuing year are to be elected. Notices of the meeting have been sent out to the members, and it is hoped that a full attendance will be present.

Lack of interest in the affairs of the association during the past two years has been manifest, and an effort will be made to infuse some new life into what is one of Maui's oldest and most famous institutions.

District Deputy Coming to Install Officers

A. B. Angus, district deputy of the Knights of Pythias order for Hawaii, will arrive on Maui next Tuesday, according to word received by officers of Aloha Lodge No. 3, and will officially install the recently elected new officers at the meeting to be held on Thursday evening, the 14th.

Following this installation, Mr. Angus will go on to Hilo to act in similar capacity for the Hilo lodge, following which he plans returning to Maui for a week's vacation. He will be the guest of friends in Wailuku during his visit.

KAHULUI WATCH PARTY.

The watch party held at the Masonic Temple, Kahului, by a jolly lot of Kahului people, on New Year's eve, was one of the most pleasing of several affairs of the kind held on Maui. Dancing, and an amusing program kept things lively until the whistles and crackers announced the birth of the new year.

Honolulu Wholesale Produce Market.

By A. T. LONGLEY, Director Territorial Marketing Division.

December, 1914, was the best month that the Territorial marketing division has had, the sales amounting to approximately $7000. The number of consignments showed an increase over November, a good many new consignors having started to ship.

The conditions of produce received is gradually getting better but there is still a great deal for the producer to learn regarding proper methods of packing, crating and shipping as well as grading, that will mean larger profits to him.

To get best prices a producer must have his product in first-class condition. He cannot expect to get first-class price for poor goods any more than he would expect to pay ten dollars for a five-dollar plow. At least two-thirds of the chickens that come to the market are not in good condition, half of them either too thin to sell for table purposes, or sick with bad colds or roup.

Heretofore the Division has tried to fatten thin chickens and care sick chickens so the producer could get a better price, but beginning with the new year all sick chickens will be killed at once and thin chickens will be sold to the highest bidder on the day of their arrival. This applies to all kinds of poultry. The Island producers must remember that the people of Honolulu demand fat poultry and will not take a thin bird just for the sake of helping out home industry. This is clearly shown by the number of mainland chickens that are imported by every steamer.

The cause of the big drop in the price of hogs around the holidays is a mystery. The best quotation received on some first class hogs yesterday was 10 1/2 cents. Producers are advised to hold their stock a little longer in the hope that the price may be better.

The Division can sell from 100 to 200 grade hogs from 60 to 80 pounds each, preferably sows. These hogs must be from districts where there is no hog cholera. Producers having hogs of this class should communicate with the Division before they send the stock in.

The season for hatching chickens is about to start and the Division is patiently receiving calls for hatchling eggs from pure bred stock. The Division has a directory of producers of pure bred live stock through which a good many sales are made. The Division is doing all in its power to improve the poultry of the Islands.

The Division often receives shipments from the other islands without the name of the shipper on the package, or shipping receipt, or letter. There is no way of telling to whom such shipments belong until word is received from the shipper. It is very important that the name of the shipper be in every package in conspicuous letters, or on a tag, and that a letter and shipping receipt, especially a shipping receipt, be mailed by the same steamer.

The Division hopes to be able to give better service to the producers of the Territory during the coming year and every producer should try to get his products as near perfection as possible in order that the Division may get quicker sales and better prices.

The Division needs a better location a better building and a revolving fund in order that payments may be made to producers more promptly. If producers are in favor of these improvements they should let the next legislature hear from them.

Frank Baldwin Again Heads Maui Chamber

At the annual meeting of the Maui Chamber of Commerce held on Thursday afternoon, Frank F. Baldwin, despite his vigorous protest, was re-elected to the position of president, which he has so well filled for the past two years. The other officers were also re-elected by unanimous vote as follows: R. A. Wadsworth, vice-president, C. D. Lufkin, treasurer, and D. H. Case, secretary. The following names submitted by the nominating committee, were elected as trustees of the Chamber for the coming year: H. A. Baldwin, Geo. Fredland, Geo. Cooper, W. O. Alken, H. W. Rice, D. C. Lindsay, H. B. Penhallow, L. Weinheimer, W. T. Robinson, J. J. Walsh, and L. Von Tempsky.

House Warming Party

Mr. and Mrs. Pharos, of the Orpheum, entertained a number of friends most pleasantly last Monday evening in their new home, the Jos. Ambrose property, which they have recently taken. The affair was in the nature of a house warming and was a very jolly one. Music and dancing occupied several hours' time most delightfully. Choice refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Leslie West, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Taylor, Mr and Mrs. V. A. Vetlesen, Will J. Cooper, C. Rose, R. Lillico, and Joe Reed.

J. Garcia Changes Plans —Not Going to Hilo

J. Garcia, of the First National Bank, who had expected to remove his residence to Hilo, has changed his plans in this regard, and will continue to make Wailuku his home. The business deal which he had been negotiating, and which was all but settled, slipped a cog at the last moment, and Mr. Garcia called it off entirely. Mr. Garcia returned from Hilo the first of the week after having made his final decision. His many Maui friends will be pleased to know that he will continue to be a resident of the best island in the Territory.

CHILD DROWNS IN DUCK POND.

Emma Ah Chau, the 16-months old daughter of Ah Chau, a well known Waihee Chinese, was drowned on Wednesday last by falling into a duck pond near her parents' home. Although the body was recovered within a short time after the accident, all efforts at resuscitation failed.

Comic Opera is Feature of Carnival Next Month

(Special.) HONOLULU, January 7.—Theatricals are to play a prominent part in the 1915 Mid-Pacific Carnival, and recently a wireless was sent to San Francisco by Director General James D. Dougherty asking a publishing firm there to forward to Honolulu as soon as possible the scores and music for "The Sho-Gun," the Japanese comic opera in two parts, the music for which was written by Gustav Luders and the book by George Ade.

A. R. (Sonny) Cunha, after several conversations with Mr. Dougherty, has consented to take charge of the production of the opera, and arrangements have been made by Mr. Cunha to secure the beautiful Oahu College campus for staging the piece. Immediately upon the arrival of the scores and music, Mr. Cunha will begin rehearsals, and he says that the cast and chorus will include nearly 225 persons.

Dr. W. P. Ferguson Dies of Appendicitis

Dr. Wilbert Perry Ferguson, principal of Mills school, died shortly after 4 o'clock last Tuesday morning at the Queen's hospital as a result of appendicitis. He had been ill but three days. Dr. Ferguson was taken ill Friday evening with what he believed was an attack of indigestion but which later developed into appendicitis. An operation was performed Monday afternoon from which he failed to recover.

The news of Dr. Ferguson's death came as a tremendous shock to his hundreds of friends in the Territory. In the death of Dr. Ferguson Honolulu, as well as the entire territory, loses a man who at all times was in the front rank of those who were striving for public good, for civic betterment, for broader scope in local temperance work and for the furtherance of church projects. He had been at Mills for a year and four months.

Dr. Ferguson is survived by a widow, Mrs. Cora Belle Ferguson; a son, Donald, and two daughters, Margaret and Helen. He was born in Natane, Ontario, Canada, February 2, 1863, and was 52 years old. He came to Honolulu for the first time September 13, 1913, as principal of Mills school. He made an extended tour of the mainland last fall, returning with his wife and children.

The body was cremated and will be sent for burial to the Ferguson family home in Belleville, Ontario, Canada, where it will repose beside the body of Dr. Ferguson's mother, at his own request.
